Biography Witvoet was born and raised in Amsterdam. He became a pupil of Pieter Saenredam and probably his successor in the workshop of the painter Hendrick van Balen. This is the workshop where in 1711 he married De Lantighen, daughter of the painter Hals. He is known for genre painting, allegorical paintings with religious subjects, and etchings. Work He is known for a series of 48 prints from the series "The Apotheosis of the Sea" from 1721. These were based on a painting by his father Andries Witvoet, showing the preservation of the fallen body of Jesus by the sea, or the return of the dead to life by having the waves wash over it.
